ESCAPE OF BERT WING

Noted Murderer Who Killed Wife
After Career of Crime.

Leaves Frankfort and Gets Sentence After Fifteen Years in Penitentiary.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—In the midst of all the excitement arising from the big political events happening in the capital city today two life convicts made good their escape from the penitentiary, and are as yet at large.

Albert Wing, of Louisville, serving a sentence for murder, and John Clark, of Shelbyville, are the men. The former had been an intimate for fifteen years, and the latter for seven.

Wing murdered his wife, the killing being of a most sensational and brutal character ever known in Louisville. He would have been hung but for the fact that the murdered woman's father appeared in the court room, broken with sorrow and asked, that no more blood be shed, requesting that Wing be given a life sentence.

Both were trustees, Wing being an orderly in the Warden's office, and Clark serving as one of the assistant guards. In these capacities they had wide liberty within the confines of the building and grounds.

The men were missed at 5 o'clock when the rest of the prisoners were being returned to the cells. Immediate search was made but without avail. Other prisoners said that they had seen the two drinking whiskey during the afternoon, and it is supposed that the source from which they received the wet goods may have supplied them with a change of garments, allowing them to pass unnoticed in the great throng that fills the city.

All over the state wires were kept hot, and every train that will pull into the various cities bordering on Frankfort or its railroads will be watched and searched. The escape created a sensation, and the warden believes it to have been the result of a carefully laid plot.

Secret of Human Happiness.
I have lived to know that the great secret of human happiness is this—never suffer your energies to stagnate. The old adage, "too many irons in the fire," conveys an abominable falsehood. You can not have too many—poker, tongs and all—keep them all going.—Dr. Adam Clark.

A Clue.
"I guess," said Herlock Sholmes, thoughtfully, "that it is because a policeman is a copper that they send him on a cent."

PROMISING FOR BRADLEY

Five Democrats Have Declared They Cannot Vote for Beckham.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 7.—Republicans are greatly encouraged over the prospects of electing former Gov. W. O. Bradley to the United States Senate. In many quarters it was stated with great assurance today by both Democrats and Republicans that beyond per-adventure of a doubt former Gov. Beckham will be defeated.

It is known positively that five Democrats have openly declared that under no circumstances will they cast their ballot for Beckham, and in addition to these it is confidently expected both by the Republicans and by the Democratic opponents of the former governor that four more Democrats, while making no open declarations, will decline to give their support to the party nominee of the primary of 1908.

GAVELS FROM LINCOLN FARM

To be Used in Both Houses of the Kentucky Legislature.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—The gavels which will be used by the presiding officers in the two bodies of the general assembly during the sessions, which began Tuesday, will be made from a tree which grew on the farm where Abraham Lincoln was born. The gavels were made by Senator Greenwood A. Taylor, of Larue county, with his own hands, and he has them now to present to the presiding officers when they have been chosen.

Senator Taylor lives on the farm adjoining the Lincoln farm and took the wood from a tree on the Lincoln farm. He reached Frankfort tonight with the gavels. Senator Taylor is a Republican and will stand high in the session, being a man of great ability.

Death of Nicholas J. Herb, Was a Shock to Many Friends.

Surprise and sorrow was evident Friday evening when the news came that Nick Herb had passed into the great unknown at 6:10 p.m. He had been ill so short a while that many of his friends did not even know of his critical condition, which was only thought to be so a few days before his death. He was taken ill on Christmas day and continued to grow worse till the end came.

Nick Herb was born and reared in Earlinton and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He was popular with all and of affable, genial nature and attractive personality. He was an accomplished musician and seemed happiest when at the piano bringing forth sweet strains of music by his magic touch.

Those who heard him once longed to listen again. The name of Nick Herb suggested music and it is hard to realize that no more will his melodies be heard.

Nicholas J. Herb, had he lived, would have been twenty three years old today, Jan. 9. His father died several years ago, his mother, Mrs. Leonard Huff and three brothers, Ray and Paul Herb of this place and Leo of Terre Haute, Ind., and two half brothers, Pete Herb of Providence and John Herb of Hot Springs survive him.

The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Catholic church of which he was a member and the burial took place at the cemetery in this place, attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The pall bearers were George Robinson, L. L. Goodeve, Buch Shaver, Howard Blair, Dee Henry, Roy Henry.

The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss.

Gunboat Paducah Coming Up Ohio River.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 2.—The United States gunboat Paducah, which, with the Marietta and Dubuque, has been stationed in Central American waters for nearly a year, with occasional trips to Guantanamo and New Orleans, is again in port, accompanied by the Dubuque. The Paducah will soon proceed up the river as far as Paducah, or as near that place as she can, to receive a silver service from the citizens there. The vessel is commanded by T. D. Griffin, who relieved Commander Winterhalder three months ago. The time of the gunboat's departure will depend upon the stage of the upper river.

Per Cent. of Doubtful Honesty.
Rigid and precise honesty exists in more vigorous form among business men perhaps than in any other class. The understandings of finance, of banking, of corporation enterprise and of business generally would collapse but for the fact that 98 per cent. of men in business are honest. But the other 2 per cent. will bear a good deal of watching.

EXIT FALSE PROPHETI

EARLINGTON'S POPULATION

Increase of 206 During Last Year.
Increased Property Valuation.

OLD OFFICIALS REAPPOINTED NEW MEMBER OF HEALTH BOARD.

At the regular January meeting of the Earlinton City Council held on Monday night, the old officers were reelected all through the line with the exception that a change was made in the personnel of the Board of Health. Dr. C. B. Johnson was elected to a place on this board, the other two old members, Dan M. Evans and John X. Taylor, being reelected. Mr. Jas. R. Rash, the present Mayor, was formerly a member of this board.

The officials elected by the Council are: William Bradley, Marshal; C. W. Mitchell, Deputy Marshal; Paul P. Price, Clerk; Frank B. Arnold, Treasurer; Dr. W. K. Nisbet, Physician; Frank D. Rash, Engineer; Robert D. Wood, Street Commissioner.

The Assessor's report made by N. I. Toombs develops the interesting fact that Earlinton has gained 206 in population since the last local census was taken in September 1906. This report shows that Earlinton now has a population of 3566, against 3360 the previous year. There is also a gain in assessed valuation, showing the city's prosperous condition and reflecting the numerous improvements and additions in the business and residence sections during the past year, with the gratifying gain of $20,264.00.

The Board of Equalization for Earlinton has completed its deliberations and the tax list will be ready and in the hands of Marshal Bradley for collection within a short time. City Clerk Price says he will have the financial report ready for publication in the next issue of THE BEE.

NIGHT RIDERS BURN POSTOFFICE

First Raids in the Bluegrass District Cause big Losses.

TWO TOWNS WERE RAIDED BY THE SAME MOB.

Carlisle, Ky., Jan. 7.—Twenty men rode into Bethel, Bath county, last night about 11 o'clock. Shortly afterward fire was discovered in the large tobacco warehouse of Allie Robertson. Building was consumed by the flames together with over half million pounds of tobacco. The large grocery establishment and postoffice of Peters Bros., caught fire from the warehouse and also burned together with most of its contents. Sherburne, six miles away, was next visited by these same twenty men, and the large tobacco warehouse of Thomas Daugherty was also burned. This barn contained about three hundred thousand pounds of tobacco in the bulk and ten pruned hogsheads of tobacco. Each of these dealers had been given warning not to buy any more tobacco, and it is said they agreed to do so, but had not kept their promise, and the above is the result. All telephone wires in that section were cut. Peters Bros., loss over insurance is $2,000. Robertson's loss on his barn is only $1,500, his tobacco being fully covered by insurance. Daugherty's loss is $6,000 over insurance.

Leave a Fortune Behind.
It is estimated that $5,000,000 is spent each summer by American tourists in Canada.

Public School Opens With Increased Enrollment

The Earlinton Public School opened Monday in good spirits with increased enrollment and children and teachers in good working order after an enjoyable vacation of two weeks. Several children who have been at work the first part of the winter are now in school and others are expected to be enrolled. The teachers and trustees are making a special effort to get all children in school. The attendance is not up to the maximum, owing to illness of a number of the children.

CRAZY WHEN HE SHOT WHITE

This Will be The Defense of Thaw on His Second Trial Now Opening.

New York, Jan. 6.—At the close of three court sessions, which marked the first day of the second trial of Harry K. Thaw, nine tentative jurors have been selected out of fifty-seven talesmen examined by District Attorney Jerome for the prosecution, and Martin W. Littleton for the defense. All of the men in the jury box are subject to peremptory challenge of which each side has thirty.

Legal insanity at the time of the tragedy is to be the sole defense. This was made clear at the very outset of the proceedings today when Mr. Littleton formally served notice that the former plea of not guilty was amended by the specification that the defendant was insane when the homicide was committed.

TELEPHONE PROGRESSIVENESS AT JOHANNESBERG, AFRICA.

Rates are High But They Have Lots of Business on the Message Rate Plan.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—(Special) That South Africa is already something of a rival to America in progressiveness is proved by the telephone expansion of that British colony. A recent report received in this city states that there was opened at Johannesburg on Oct. 26 last a new common battery exchange having a present equipment of 6,246 lines. The cut-over from the magneto system was made the occasion for a complete revision of the system of rates, so that henceforth these will correspond to those methods of the message rate system as practised in most of the larger American cities. Instead of a flat rate charge of approximately $100 a year, which has heretofore prevailed in Johannesburg, subscribers to residence service now pay about $35 a year for a minimum of 600 calls; over that a charge of four cents for each call up to 800, two cents up to 2400 and one cent beyond. These prices for limited service are easily seen to be rather high, considering the size of the South African capital. The message rate plan which has been adopted in Johannesburg is said to be gaining in favor all over the world.

SHALL WE PENSION OUR EX-PRESIDENT?

Grover Cleveland's Suggestion Said to be Gaining Favor and Congress May Act.

Washington, D. C., Jan. (Special) The suggestion made by President Grover Cleveland that the United States find a method of taking care of Presidents after they leave the executive office which will enable them to maintain the standard of living expected of them, has with more or less general approval. Mr. Cleveland last week called attention to the fact that a few of the twenty-four men who have been honored by their countrymen with the office of president have enjoyed sufficient income during the remainder of their lives to enable them to maintain the social standing expected of them. He pointed out that very few fields of industry are open to the man who has once served the nation as its chief executive and that still fewer will insure an income sufficient for him to continue to live on the same social scale as when he presided at the White House. The American people, he declared, though less have demanded that their former Presidents shall seek and follow a high calling upon retiring, whether or not they possess the means to do so. Awakened to the truth of this, it is extremely probable that congress will vote a substantial pension to the men who for 4 years or more have steered the good ship of State during the remainder of their lives to enable them to maintain the social standing expected of them. Family Commits Suicide.

A quadruple suicide occurred at Kolozsvár, Austria, a man, his wife, and their two grown-up daughters hanging themselves. The father, whose name was Litvay, was a director of the Kolozsvár hospital, and had defrauded the institution. The family was in disgrace, and all four decided to die together. They left a letter, signed by all four, asking the police to keep the affair secret.

DID NOT CALL ROYAL MINE A 'DEATH TRAP'

Assistant Mine Inspector Makes Statement About Dispatcher From Madisonville.

Mr. A. G. Spillman, assistant mine Inspector for Kentucky, who it was recently reported in a dispatch from Madisonville had said the Royal mine at that place was a "death trap," and had ordered it closed on that account, has made a public statement through the Courier-Journal in which he denies that either of these statements are true.

Mr. Spillman says there were certain changes desirable in the Royal mine, in the way of sprinkling, etc. and that, in his regular way, recommendation was made by him for these changes. Mr. Spillman's recommendations have been complied with by the management. The mines are in operation.

ASK PARDON FOR CALEB POWERS

Georgetown Democrats Including Veterans are Working.

Ten Jurors Will Sign and Petition Will be Sent Over State.

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 6.—Four Democrats, two of whom fought under the Confederate flag, and three Republicans compose the Caleb Powers' Committee here, and these are preparing a petition, which will be presented to the Governor, asking that the prisoner of Georgetown be freed.

Irrespective of party or feeling everyone in Scott county will sign the petition, and as one old veteran expressed it to-day—"He has suffered enough we're he guilty ten times over; we are all for Caleb Powers."

Ten jurors will sign the petition also, and the monster petition with nearly every name in this county upon it will be sent on its travels over the State.

And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to every young babe. The wholesome green leaves and a tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. St. Bernard Mining Co. How the Rattles Are Worn.

The rattles lie edgewise. It is evident that they must do so, inasmuch as they are but continuations of the backbone. The snake carries the rattles on the ground except when he raises them to sound his warning. This will be evidenced by the fact that in every snake of any size that is killed the rattles are worn through on the under side.—Forest and Stream.

Thaw for the alleged murder of Stanford White, nine tentative jurors had been selected out of 57 talesmen examined by District Attorney Jerome, for the prosecution, and Martin W. Littleton, for the defense. All of the men in the jury box are subject to peremptory challenge, of which each side has thirty. In view of the difficulty experienced last year in discharging five jurors after they had taken the oath of service, it was agreed this time not to administer any oaths until both sides finally are satisfied with the full panel.

To Plead Legal Insanity.

Legal insanity at the time of the tragedy is to be the sole defense. This was made clear at the very outset of the proceedings, when Mr. Littleton formally served notice that the former plea of not guilty was amended by the specification that the defendant was insane when the homicide was committed.

The trial opened with little or no ceremony and there was distinct evidence of a slackening of public interest. Admittance to the courtroom was rigorously restricted and all day long there were vacant benches in the curtained quarters given over to spectators. The only women allowed to be present are the members of the defendant's family and newspaper writers. Artists, who were barred after the first few days of the first trial, were allowed to sketch to their heart's content.

Throngs Follow Mrs. Thaw.

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw was again the center of interest even to the exclusion of the defendant himself. She was followed by throngs of curious persons as she entered and left the courthouse for the morning and afternoon sessions. She did not attend the night sitting. The long court hours and the tedious monotony of the repeated jury examinations proved intensely fatiguing.

Every possible convenience is to be provided for the jurors who are to be locked up throughout the trial. They are to be quartered in one of the fashionable hotels on Upper Broadway and luncheon is to be served at an expensive downtown restaurant. The jury examinations did not develop such a strong vein of unalterable opinion as was anticipated and many of the talesmen were excused on other grounds than bias based upon the reading of extensive reports of the first trial.

Bruce Witness Ill.

New York, Jan. 7.—Robert C. Caldwell, the witness in the Bruce case, under indictment in England for perjury and arrested in New York on his arrival recently, will probably not be able to appear when his case is called today. The federal authorities learned yesterday that the condition of Caldwell, who has been ill since his arrival, has become so grave that he is expected to live only a few days. His examination before Commissioner Alexander will likely be indefinitely adjourned.

Noted Surgeon Dies in Berlin.

Philadelphia, Jan. 7.—A cablegram received here Monday from Berlin by Dr. H. Augustus Wilson announced the death of Dr. Albert Hoffa, the famous orthopaedic surgeon and professor in the University of Berlin. Dr. Hoffa is credited with having originated the methods which developed the bloodless cure for congenital hip dislocations as practiced by Dr. Adolph Lorenz.

Teamsters Strike for Raise.

Brockton, Mass., Jan. 2.—Because the hay, grain, and coal dealers of this city refused to advance wages from $2.37½ to $2.50 a day, 125 teamsters struck yesterday. The drivers say that they will not submit their demands to arbitration.

Reduce Force and Wages.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 2.—The American Smelting and Refining Co. it is authoritatively announced here, will shortly close down several of its smelting plants because of the depression in the lead market. At the East Helena plant the company reduced its force 160 men and today a 10 per cent reduction in wages will be posted for the 250 men who are retained.

Thousands Miners Out.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 2.—President Smith of the Mine Workers' union stated last night that in response to the strike call sent out Tuesday, 1,000 men in Hopkins, Webster, Union and Christian counties went out and this number would be increased today.

Ask Aid in Fighting Fire.

Pittsburg, Jan. 2.—Coal Center, a coal mining town of 3,000 people, 60 miles south of here, has sent to nearby towns for aid in fighting a fire which started in a mine shaft, costing over $100,000 damage.

FOR THE SAKE OF OUR CHILDREN.

The Earlington School Board's Address to Patrons and Friends of Graded and High Schools

PARENTS URGED TO SEND ALL THEIR CHILDREN TO SCHOOL.

Marked Illiteracy in Kentucky is Shown

Messrs. Dan M. Evans and Paul M. Moore, comprising the Earlington School Board, issued last week a letter addressed to the patrons and friends of the Earlington Graded Public and High School in an effort to more thoroughly stir up a genial spirit of interest in the school and the welfare of the children as well as a spirit of more active co-operation with the teachers and trustees in their effort to improve and build up the education of our youth.

The trustees ask that parents make all reasonable sacrifice in order to give all their children the advantages offered in our splendid school to obtain an education and that all join in a united effort to build up the school attendance and encourage our teachers in their earnest and conscientious work to make worthy men and women of our boys and girls.

THE BEE suggests that this letter be read by all citizens of Earlington and that each unite in doing everything in his or her power to help along the spirit of advance in education.

If there is any need of further argument in this matter it will be found in the following extract from the report just made to the Kentucky legislature by a committee representing the State College and the two State Normal schools. The fact here stated should bring a feeling of shame to every Kentuckian and stimulate the most determined efforts for educational improvement.

The statement follows:

"According to this census (the latest Federal census) in the descending scale of illiteracy and on the basis of the whole population, Kentucky is 37; on the basis of the whole population,—the Kentucky darkey being better educated than other Southern darkeys—Kentucky is 42; eliminating the foreigner and, on the basis of the native white population, Kentucky is 43; on the basis of the native white voter of native white parentage, Kentucky is 49, leaving off all the states and Territories—including Hawaii—only North Carolina, Louisiana and New Mexico are lower in the scale than we."

The letter by the school board is published in this issue. W. R. Coyle has not qualified as a member of the board, having been elected to the term beginning July 1st next. It is expected that Mr. Coyle will qualify soon, however, by request of the other members, and co-operate to make a full board.

BOX WILL BE REFILLED BEFORE ANY MORE ARE CHALLENGED.

FOUR PROVISIONALS PASSED

Last Installment of 100 in Original Panel of 300 Summoned Will Report This Morning for Examination.

New York, Jan. 8.—Three jurors sworn to serve on the trial panel for Harry K. Thaw represented Tuesday night the net results of the two days and six sessions of the trial before Justice Dowling in the criminal branch of the supreme court. In addition to the trio who are oath-bound well and truly to try the case, there were in the jury box at the close of the night sitting four tentative jurors, who are subject still to peremptory challenges by either side. The task of filling the five vacant chairs will be resumed today, when the last installment of 100 talesmen summoned on the original omnibus panel of 300 names will report for examination.

In all 95 proposed jurors were called and questioned Tuesday, as against 57 on Monday.

Jury Box Was Filled.

At the close of the afternoon session the jury box was filled and hopes ran high that at least a majority of those tentatively chosen would prove acceptable to both sides. With the beginning of the evening session, however, all such hopes were dissipated.

When the suddenly descended storm of peremptory challenges cleared away there were but three survivors and it was agreed that they should be sworn as the nucleus of the trial panel. They are Charles E. Gremmels, ship broker, who is to be foreman; Arthur R. Naething, baker and caterer, and George W. Cary, dry goods dealer. Following the administration of the oath to these three men, counsel announced that the jury box would again be filled before any more peremptory challenges were exercised.

The four provisional jurors are: Geo. C. Rupprecht, salesman; Moses Greenbaum, insurance agent; John R. Maginn, retired broker, and Thomas F. Cranston, a printer.

Forty talesmen were examined at the evening session, which lasted until 10:50 p. m.

ONE CAR IS BETTER THAN MANY WHEELBARROWS.

If you were equipping a railroad line with rolling stock and your means permitted you to purchase but one locomotive and one car, it would be wiser to make the purchase than it would be to spend the money for wheelbarrows.

If you are trying to make a store or business venture of any kind "run" and your available money for advertising will buy but one inch of space in each issue of your best newspaper, it would be better to devote it to that purpose than it would be to use it in circularizing or any other "advertising" of any sort.

Of course, a hundred wheelbarrows would cost a great deal less than one railroad car—but they would also be worth a great deal less when it comes to operating the railroad. A ton or so of posters and circulars might cost less than would a moderate amount of space for a whole year in a good newspaper, but they would be worth less, too, in the matter of operating your store or enterprise.

It would not be hard for the railroad builder to decide between wheelbarrows or cars as rolling stock; and it should not be hard for the merchant to decide between circulars and newspaper advertising as store promotion forces.

THE Night Riders have succeeded in burning a postoffice in one of their tobacco fires in the Bluegrass. Now maybe your Uncle Sam will show the Kentucky grand jury how to punish a felon.

OUR three Republican Congressmen are in a deadlock over the selection of a Surveyor of the Port of Louisville. THE BEE could pick a good man for the place and save our Congressmen all the trouble of their proposed adjournment to Washington.

The Night Riders are reported to have saved a cripple from a burning building at Russellville. It was humane but hardly consistent that, while they were crippling every other man in Kentucky, they should have stopped to favor this one already crippled.

Correction of Elopement Story.

Upon information that appeared to be wholly trustworthy THE BEE last week published an item announcing that Miss Edna Jackson, of this place, had been married at Shawneetown, Ill., to Mr. Hayde Hunt, of Sturgis. Miss Jackson when seen yesterday, after she had been away on a visit for several days, said she had not eloped and was not married. THE BEE regrets this error and hastens to make amends by correcting the story.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the nose of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used, except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and may be had in 100 grs., 200 grs., 400 grs., 600 grs., 800 grs., 1000 grs., 1200 grs., 1400 grs., 1600 grs., 1800 grs., 2000 grs., 2200 grs., 2400 grs., 2600 grs., 2800 grs., Resolutions of Respect.

It has pleased the Almighty to take from us our beloved sister Mary Smith who departed this life Jan. 4, 1908. In the death of sister Smith, Hagar Chapter loses one of its bright stars.

The mother kind and obedient daughter.

The husband a true and faithful wife. The church one of its best young members.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we be in humble submission to him who doeth all things for the best.

Be it further resolved that the members of Hagar Chapter wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days, and that we tender our deepest sympathy to the relatives and friends of the deceased.

And, that a copy of these resolutions be given to the family, spread upon our chapter record and published in the Earlington Bee.

GOVERNOR SENDS BATTERY AND TWELVE COMPANIES.

MARTIAL LAW NOT TO BE DECLARED

Policemen, Who Have Been on Duty for 48 Hours, Lay Down and Sleep on Floors.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 4.—At a conference last night between Adj't Perry, Mayor Guthrie, the sheriff, city officials and several prominent citizens, it was decided to ask Gov. Hanly to send state troops here at once. When yesterday's work was ended many of the policemen, who had been on constant duty for 48 hours, laid down on the station floor and fell asleep. The majority of the special men, who had been sworn in, refused to serve longer.

As a result Gen. Perry telephoned Gov. Hanly and he promptly ordered out Battery A and four companies of Indianapolis and eight companies from other cities in the state, with the understanding that martial law is not to be proclaimed unless necessary, the duty of the troops being to work in conjunction with the police in maintaining order. The troops will be brought by special cars, reaching here early Saturday morning.

CERTAIN RESULTS.

Many a Kentucky Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. Varalli, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and to other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney troubles before using your remedy but after using two boxes of the pills the troubles were entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends and I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly do all that is claimed for them."

John Henry on Mosquitoes

By
George V. Hobart

(Copyright, 1906, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

When Peaches and I were married we were sentenced to live in one of those eight by nine Harlem people rooms, where they have running gas on every floor and hot and cold landlords and self-folding doors and janitors with folding arms and all that sort of thing. Immense!

When we moved into the half portion dwelling house last spring I said

"Ping-Ding-a-Zing-a-Boom."

The janitor: "Have you any mosquitoes in the summer?"

The janitor was so insulted he didn't feel like taking a drink for ten minutes.

"Mosquitoes!" he shouted; "such birds of prey were never known in these apartments. We have piano eaters and gas meters, but never much criminals as mosquitoes."

With these kind words I was satisfied.

For weeks I bragged about my Harvard flat for which no mosquitoes could carry a latch-key. The janitor said, and his word was law.

I looked forward to a summer without pennyroyal on the mantelpiece or ch hazel on the shin bone, and was atent.

But one night in the early summer I all that was coming to me and I it good.

in the middle of the night I thought heard voices in the room and I sat in bed.

I wonder if it's second-story men," whispered to myself, because my e was away at the seashore.

She had gone off to the shimmering sands and left me chained to the post of duty, and I tell you, boys, it's an awful thing when your wife quits you that way and you have to drag the post of duty all over town in order to find a cool place.

Wives may rush away to the summer resorts where all is gayety, and where every guess they make at the bill of fare means a set-back in the bank account; but the husbands must labor on through the scorching days and in the evenings climb the weary steps to the roof gardens.

"Ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!" exclaimed the voices on the other side of the bed.

"If they are after diamonds," I moaned, "they will lose money," and then I reached under the pillow for the revolver I never owned.

"Ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!" went the conversation on the other side of the bed.

"There is something doing here," I remarked to myself, while I wished for daylight with both hands.

"Ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!" went the conversation on the other side of the bed.

"Who is it?" I whispered, waiting

"A Letter from My Wife."

Not a reply, but hoping no one would answer me.

"Ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!" said the same mysterious voice.

Then suddenly it struck me—the janitor was a man.

These voices in the night emanated from a convection of mosquitoes.

In that nerve-decaying moment I recollect my parting admonition to my wife when she went away: "Darling, remember, money is not everything in this world, and don't write home to me for any more. And remember, also, that when a Jersey mosquito makes you forget the politeness due your host, just your return him in his face and return him to your happy little home in Harvard, where the mosquito never warms and stings not like a serpent, you hear?"

And now it was all off.

Never more could we get away to the seashore for two expensive weeks and realize that we would be much more comfortable at home like millions of other people do every year.

"Ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!" shrieked those relentless voices in the darkness.

"Do you want my money or my life?" I inquired tremblingly.

"We desire to bite our autograph on your wishbone," one voice replied pleasantly.

"Great Scott!" I shouted, "why do you wish to bite one who is a stranger to you?"

"You have a wife who is passing a few weeks at the Jersey seashore, is it not so?" inquired the nearest voice.

"Heaven help me, I have," I answered, manfully.

"She is at Cheesehurst-by-the-Sea?" that awful voice went on.

"She is," I admitted it.

"Well, yesterday evening she slapped her forehead suddenly and killed the breadwinner of this family," the voice shrieked, "and we are here for revenge!"

"What is your name, please?" I whispered.

"My name is Clementina Stinger, and with me is my son, little Willie Stinger, formerly of Cheesehurst-on-the-Sea," the voice answered.

I sat there and listened, while my knees shook for the driks.

"We looked up your wife's home address and came hither to board with you, because she upset our bread-winner's apple cart," the voice went on threateningly.

"Willie, my son, get a light luncheon from the gentleman's medulla oblongata and I will eat a small steak from his solar plexus—ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!"

"Have you no pity?" I said, pleadingly.

"Ping!" said Clementina—"pity! You ask for pity, when my forefathers were the first to land on the only Plymouth rock in the meadows of Hackensack! I wish you to know that the proud blood of many victims rushes through the veins of the Stinger family. We do not belong to the pity push. Willie, if the gentleman kicks bore a tunnel through his cerebellum, near the medusa, and I will jump in his alimentary canal and take a swim—ping-ding-a-zing-a-boom!"

Then just as these two ferocious members of the Stinger family rushed at me I awoke with a cry for help.

There was not a mosquito in the room.

Thank heaven, it was only a dream!

At the door, however, was a messenger with a special-delivery letter from my wife.

The letter read: "Dear John: I only want to say that Cheesehurst-by-the-Sea would be a nice place if a person could wear armor plate to avoid the mosquitoes. I have rubbed my complexion with peppermint, and I have worn smoke-sticks in my hair till I burned my pompadour, but the mosquitoes still look upon me as their meal ticket. I expect to insult everybody present and leave for home tomorrow. Lovingly, thy wife."

My dream was out.

Here is a Novelty.

A street hawker recently introduced a novelty in keyholes.

He said: Here you are, gentlemen; the greatest invention of the age.

Passer (stopping to listen)—What is it?

Hawker—A magnetized keyhole-plate for front doors. It will attract an ordinary latch key from a distance of two feet. All you have to do is find the keyhole is to take out your key and hang on to it.

Three men are reported to have been injured in the crowd which gathered to buy the novelty.—The Royal.

French Omelet.

Into a bowl put four eggs, season with salt. Into chafing dish put one tablespoonful of butter; when heated, pour into chafing dish the well-beaten eggs. Take spoon or fork and draw from the edge of the dish to the center, which will give the layer-like composition noticed in French omelets. Instead of folding in half, fold each edge to the center, then fold again, or begin at the edge and roll up, making first fold about an inch and a half. Have parsley garniture for plain omelet, or mince parsley and sprinkle the omelet before folding.

Already Supplied.

"But sir," insisted the persistent agent, "I want to sell you the most wonderful cash register on the market. It will keep account of what you take in, what you pay out, what you spend, how you spend it, and—"

"My dear man," interrupted Mr. Meeker, with a wan smile, "I already have a cash register that does all that."

"Indeed! And may I ask the name?"

"Yes; my wife."—Stray Stories.

Chicago Record Herald.

"Trade and I generally prefer to trade, and I'm rather particular in regard to the one with the large hands."

"We took a lot in that the same ways previously, have you got some to make this a better world?"

"Where?" asked the man who is at the the Jaff.

From Experience.

"Do you think a game of kissing is a comedy?" asked the bashful young man.

"No, indeed," replied the pretty girl. "I think it is an opera."

"An opera? And why?"

"Because it is always grand."

And then he got busy.—Chicago Daily News.

Telephone and Telegraph Poles.

Recent estimates give 300,000 miles of telephone and telegraph pole line in the United States. At an average of 40 poles to the mile there are 32,000,000 in use, and assuming that the life of a pole is 12 years, there are needed each year more than 2,650,000 poles.

John Henry on Social Affairs

By George V. Hobart

(Copyright, 1906, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

Last year Bunch and Alice put in several weeks doing the society stunts at the fashionable seaside resorts.

I must put you next to a letter Bunch wrote me from Newport:

Dear John—With a party of our society friends we have been Newporting all this week.

Next week I hope to Bar Harbor for a few days, and the week after that I hope to Narragansett for a short period.

In the party with us here are Clarence Fussyface, Llewellyn Shortbrow, Harry Pifflemin, Cecil Vanwigglevandozen, Mrs. George Plentywash and Miss Clorinda Fritters.

During our first day at Newport we played bridge until two o'clock, then we jumped into our automobiles to see if we could run across a few friends.

Llewellyn Shortbrow made a mistake with his machine and ran across a stranger, hitting him just between the wishbone and the Casino.

The stranger's leg was broken, which put the laugh on Llewellyn.

The next night Cecil Vanwigglevandozen gave us one of the most delightful experiences I have ever known.

"Ran Across a Stranger."

It was a monkey dinner.

A monkey dinner consists of a happy mixture of society and monkey—with just a trifle more society than monkey to give it the proper flavor.

The idea of the monkey dinner originated in a fertile spot in the southeastern part of Vanwigglevandozen's brain, which up to then was supposed to be extinct. The eruption of such a gigantic idea from a brain supposed to be extinct, came as a great but pleasant shock to Claude.

Originally it was Vanwigglevandozen's idea to have Clarence Fussyface play the monkey, because Clarence's intelligence is built on a plan to suggest mimicry, but a hand-organ proprietor by the name of Giuseppe, who is summering at Newport, came to the rescue with a real monkey by the name of Claude.

Claude had acted for many years as a second-story man for Giuseppe, and is one of the very best ice-cutters in the whole monkey business.

A full-dress suit is made for Claude, and when he entered society you would tell at once that he was not a waiter.

Claude was placed at the head of the table, and as he sat there smiling at his friends it made one of the sweetest pictures of family contentment I have ever witnessed.

There were no set speeches.

Vanwigglevandozen gave Claude a glass of champagne, which the guest of honor politely refused by spilling it down the neck of Harry Pifflemin.

The policeman turned away to conceal his emotion and to take a pull at the two-for cigar.

"What, oh! what is to be done?" wailed the helpless woman.

"Perhaps you remember the jewel well enough to get photograph from memory?" he suggested.

A smile chased itself over the face of Mrs. Shinevonboddie, and she picked herself up from the geraniums.

"I remember them perfectly," she whispered, "because when my husband got the bill for them he had four different styles of fits in four minutes. Three of these fits were entirely new and original with him, so I remember the jewels perfectly."

"Good!" said the policeman. "I will have 18 detectives and 218 reporters up here in ten minutes. Calm yourself now, calm yourself, because what is lost will soon be found in the newspapers."

The policeman rushed away to the telephone, and with a glad cry of thanksgiving Mrs. Shinevonboddie ran in the house and began to beat Beanz out of the piano.

That's all the society news I have at present, John. Yours as per usual,

Have you noticed
"Have you noticed," said the reader of fiction, "that it is the fashion no to say 'sun up' instead of sunrise? The sleepers are overtaken, the how catches fire, the trains collide, a sorts of things happen at 'sun up.' Those things used to take place at 'sunrise.' The style in words has changed, that's all."

Dance Engagements in Advance. Several keen dancing men tell me that they find many of the best dancers of the opposite sex fill up the programmes long before the day of the dance, and that this custom is becoming more or less general. Seven ladies have already (August 25) fixed their programmes for the club ball which does not take place till September 16.—Times of India.

It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from "consumption." writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. I had run down in weight to 110 pounds, and coughing was constant both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone, and I was restored to my normal weight of 170 pounds. Weak Kidneys Weak Kidneys surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organs itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine directly preparing the kidney nerves to do their work.

"If you have a backache or is weak, if the urine is dark and strong, if you have a nervousness, or other disorder, or disease, or may disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative monthly Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell."

John Henry on Chafing Dishes

By George V. Hobart

(Copyright, 1906, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

I pulled a wheeze on Bunch Jefferson a few weeks ago that made him sit up and scream for help. Bunch is the Original Ace all right, but it does put dust on his dignity to have anybody touch his literary attainments.

Bunch can really sling a nasty little pen, but he isn't anybody's John W. Milton.

Not at all.

He can take a bunch of the English language and flatten it around the

"One of Those Hand Painted Suburbs." edges till it looks quite poetic, but that doesn't make him a George O. Khayyam.

Not at all.

The trouble with Bunch is that his home folks have swelled his chest to such an extent by petting his adjectives that he thinks he has Shakespeare on a hot skidoo for the sand dunes, and when it comes to that poetry he thinks he can make Hank Longfellow beat up a tree.

Bunch and Alice joined the local club of course, and when Bunch read some of his poetical outbursts at a free-and-easy one evening, society got up on its hind legs and with one voice declared my old pal Jefferson to be the logical successor to Robert H. Browning, Sir Walter K. Scott, Bert Tennyson, or any other poet that ever shook a quill.

Bunch began to fancy himself some—well, rather!

When Peaches and I went out Westchester way a few weeks ago to pass a week-end with Bunch and Alice all we heard was home-made poetry.

When Bunch wasn't ladling out impromptu sonnets Alice was reading one of his poems throwing a fit over a "perfectly lovely" rondeau—whatever that may be.

It was clearly up to me to hand Bunch a good hard bump and wake him up before that poetry germ began to bite his arm off.

Bunch told me that in response to the urgent demands of his Westchester society friends he contemplated getting out a little book of his poems and this was my cue.

I figured it out that the antithesis of a book of poetry would be a cook book, so I hustled.

In a few days I had the book framed up; a few days later it was printed, and before very long Bunch's Westchester society friends were grabbing for what they supposed was his feverish output of poetry.

This is what they got:

BY BUNCH JEFFERSON.
(From Recipe Furnished by Famous Friends.)

In presenting these Cuckoo Recipes for the Chafing Dish to his friends Mr. Jefferson wishes it distinctly understood that all doctors' bills arising from a free indulgence in any of the dishes suggested herein must be paid by the indulgee, and he wishes to state further that while this book may contain many aches and pains no ptomaine is intended.

MOCK BAKED BEANS (from a recipe furnished by Ex-Mayor Dunne).—Take as many beans as the family can afford and remove the thread. Add pure spring water and stew gently till you burst your buttons. Add a little flour to coat them and let them sit. Serve with tomato catsup or molasses, according to the location you find yourself living on the map. A quart bottle of Pommery on the side will help some.

MOCK HAM AND EGGS (from a recipe furnished by Carter H. Harrison).—Place the white of a newspaper per in the frying pan and then cover the center with an Italian sunset picked fresh from a magazine picture. This forms the basis of the egg and it tastes very realistic. Be sure to get a fresh newspaper and a fresh magazine edited by a fresh editor, otherwise the imitation egg will be dull and insipid. Now add a few slices of pickled linoleum and fry carelessly for 20 minutes. Serve hot with imitation salt and pepper on the side. This is a daylight dish, because the sunset effect is lost if cooked after dark.

HAMBERGER STEAK (from a recipe furnished by Walter L. Fisher).—Always be sure to get a fresh Hamburger. There is nothing that will reconcile a man to a vegetarian diet so quick as an overripe Hamburger. They should always be picked at the full of the moon. To tell the age of a Hamburger, look at its teeth. One row of teeth for every year, and the limit is seven rows. Now remove the wishbone and slice carefully. Add Worcester sauce and let it sizzle. Add a pinch of potato salad and stir gently. Serve hot and talk fast while eating.

IMITATION BEEF TEA (from a recipe furnished by Chief of Police Shippy).—Take the white of an egg and beat it without mercy. When it is insensible put it in the teapot and add enough hot water to drown it. Let it drown about 20 minutes, then lead the yolk of an egg to the teapot and push it in. Season with a small pinch of paprika and let it simmer. Serve hot, and always be sure to put a piece of lemon in the finger-bowl.

IMITATION ROAST BEEF (from a receipt furnished by J. Ogden Armour).—Draw from memory the outlines of a cow and remove the forequarter. Place the forequarter on the gridiron and let it sizzle. Now brown the wheats and draw one. Add boiling water and stir gently with an imitation spoon. After cooking two hours try it with a can-opener. If it breaks the can-opener, it is not done. Let it sizzle. When the supper bell rings serve hot with imitation pickles on the side. Nice pickles can be made from green trading stamps, but be careful to squeeze out all the premiums from the green trading stamps before using, because the premiums are full of ptomaine.

IMITATION ROAST TURKEY (furnished by Reginald DeKoven).—Find a copy of a Thanksgiving day newspaper and select therefrom the fattest turkey on page 3. Now, with a few kind words coax the turkey away from the newspaper in the direction of the kitchen. Care should be taken that the turkey does not escape in the butler's pantry or fly up the dumb waiter, because the turkey is a very nervous animal. Once you get the turkey in the kitchen lock the door and prepare the stuffing. The best stuffing for a turkey is chestnuts, which you can obtain from any author who writes musical comedy. Now remove the wishbone carelessly and make a wish. Add 24, multiply by 19 and sprinkle with salt. Then rush the turkey over to the gas stove before it has a chance to change its mind. Let it sizzle for four hours and serve hot with jib cocktails and Phillips napkins on the side.

MOCK BEEFSTEAK (from a recipe furnished by Billy Pinkerton).—Carefully remove the laces from an old shoe and put them away, because they can be used for shoe-string potatoes just as soon as the potato trust gets started. Beat the shoe with a hammer for ten minutes until the tongue stops wagging and it gets black and blue in the face. Then put in the frying pan and stir gently. When it begins to sizzle add the yolk of an egg and season with parsley. Imitation parsley can be made from green wall paper with the scissors. If there is no green wall paper in the house speak to the landlord about it. Let it sizzle. Should you wish to smother it with onions now is your chance, because after cooking so long it is almost helpless. Serve hot with a hatchet on the side. If there are more than four people in the family use both shoes.

IMITATION IRISH STEW (from a recipe furnished by Seumas MacManus).—Remove the jacket and waistcoat from a potato and put in the saucepan. Add three quarts of boiling water. Get a map of Ireland and hang it on the wall directly in front of the saucepan. This will furnish the local color for the stew. Let it boil two hours. When the potatoes are toowitz it is a sign the stew is nearly done. Walk easy so as not to frighten it. Add a pint of rhubarb and serve hot with lettuce dressing. If the lettuce isn't dressed it ought to be ashamed of itself.

I haven't seen Bunch since the book came out. But I know that he will break back at the good and hard some of these few days.

Most people know that if they have been sick they need Scott's Emulsion to bring back health and strength.

But the strongest point about Scott's Emulsion is that you don't have to be sick to get results from it.

It keeps up the athlete's strength, puts fat on thin people, makes a fretful baby happy, brings color to a pale girl's cheeks, and prevents coughs, colds and consumption.

Food in concentrated form for sick and well, young and old, rich and poor.

And it contains no drugs and no alcohol.

REBUKES BROWNSON.

Roosevelt Gives Out Letter Written
Him by Rear Admiral.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The president Monday afternoon gave out the letter from Rear Admiral Willard H. Brownson, resigning as chief of the bureau of navigation, and which resulted in the severe excoriation of the admiral, published Monday morning, by the president. The letter says in part:

"The recent order placing a medical officer in command of a hospital ship, in my opinion, and as I have endeavored on several occasions to point out to you, is clearly opposed to the intent of the law; is a radical departure from established naval usage and is fraught with danger to the efficiency of the fleet; will tend, I believe, to break down the military merit of the service, and shows a want of your confidence in my advice regarding a matter so vital to the best interest of the service. I am left, therefore, with no alternative but to tender my resignation as chief of the bureau of navigation, much as I regret to sever my active connection with the service in which I have been devoted and in which I have given my best efforts for over 46 years."

The president's answer to this letter follows:

"Sir: I accept your resignation, to take effect immediately. You will this afternoon turn over your office to your assistant, Capt. Winslow, informing him that he is to act until such time as your successor is appointed and qualified."

$50,000,000 Will to Be Contested.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—According to a statement here last night, the will of William Rhinelander, who died last week in New York City, leaving an estate said to be valued at $50,000,000, is to be contested by William C. Rhinelander, a son, who lives in Albany, and who, it is said, is disinherited by his father.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER PRINTS PRESCRIPTION.

Directions to Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargen, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bed-time.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription-pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.
